

What is new this year at RRBC Weekday Preschool?

No oversized rolling book bags. They are too large and too heavy for our hooks.

We have a new "illness and school attendance" policy that must be read and signed by parents during the classroom visit. This policy establishes clear procedures that will be followed regarding sick children and whether or not they should attend preschool.

Summer fees will be due at the time of summer registration for current students and new students. As usual, no refunds will be given after April 1, 2010.

Any fliers, advertisements, invitations, etc., that are sent home in children's bags must be approved by the director of the preschool first.

In the event a check for tuition or other school fees is returned by the bank for insufficient funds, we will expect future payments to be made by money orders, cashier's checks, or cash. A $25 processing fee will be charged for returned checks.
